

Great Oaks Public Safety Services Advanced Police Training Courses

Course Title: Ohio Public Records Laws For Police Agency Leaders & Municipal Employees

Presented by: Ryan Stubenrauch, Esq. Communications Counsel

Course Description: Ryan Stubenrauch is an attorney who's worked closely with Ohio public records law for nearly fifteen years. From working on public records training and sensitive public record requests during his time at the Ohio Attorney General's office, to advising law enforcement and government agencies across Ohio on best practices, Ryan has become an expert on Ohio's public record laws, and is also an experienced public records law teacher. Ryan will cover Ohio's Public Records laws and go through recent court rulings as well as details about new laws surrounding privacy, sealed records and body/cruiser cameras. Ryan will also cover some of the legal and practical concerns for keeping these records in 2022 and beyond. For example, if your initial incident report and your full investigative report are within the same computer program, does that mean you've got to give a newspaper a copy of everything if they ask for it? This course is designed for all levels of the police organization and is useful for other levels of municipal government seeking a better understanding of Ohio's Public Records Laws. Most importantly, despite listening to a lawyer talk for several hours, this class will NOT be boring!
